

Disclaimer

Effective Date: September 15, 2026

Last Updated: September 15, 2026

The information, services, training, programs, downloadable materials, curricula, presentations, worksheets, and other resources provided through Jody Enget Counseling & Consulting, PLLC (“JEC&C”) are intended for educational, informational, professional-development, and, where specifically identified, clinical purposes.

Use of this website does not create a therapist-client, supervisor-supervisee, consultant-client, or other professional relationships unless and until a separate professional agreement, informed consent, or other required documentation has been completed.

Educational Information Is Not Individualized Professional Advice

General information presented on this website is not intended to replace individualized medical, psychological, psychiatric, legal, licensing, risk-management, or other professional advice.

Information provided through website content, articles, downloadable resources, training materials, Lunch & Learns, or other general educational offerings should not be relied upon as a substitute for consultation with an appropriately qualified professional regarding a specific person, situation, organization, or program.

Mental Health Information and Materials

Mental-health-related materials are intended to support education, professional development, staff preparation, and appropriately qualified professional practice.

They are not intended to:

- Diagnosing a mental health condition
- Provide individualized diagnosis or treatment
- Replace psychotherapy, psychiatric care, medical care, or other appropriate professional treatment
- Qualify an unlicensed person to provide mental health treatment
- Expand any user's professional scope of practice
- Replace required education, licensure, credentialing, supervision, or professional training

Individuals using clinical or mental-health-related materials are responsible for working within their own education, training, licensure, credentialing, supervision requirements, ethical standards, and professional scope of practice.

Products and Professional Resources

JEC&C offers products and resources intended for different audiences.

Some materials are designed primarily for licensed or appropriately supervised mental health professionals. Other resources may be designed for equine specialists, facilitators, program administrators, staff members, volunteers, or equine-assisted service organizations.

Purchasers and users are responsible for reviewing the product description and determining whether the material is appropriate for their role, qualifications, organization, client population, facility, and intended use.

Purchase or use of a product does not grant professional licensure, certification, credentialing, competency, or authorization to provide regulated professional services.

Equine-Assisted Services and Inherent Risk

Horses are large, unpredictable animals, and participation in equine-related activities involves inherent risks, including the possibility of falls, kicks, bites, collisions, equipment-related incidents, allergic reactions, environmental hazards, and other injuries.

Educational materials, worksheets, curricula, consulting recommendations, or training provided by JEC&C cannot eliminate the inherent risks associated with horses or equine environments.

Individuals and organizations are responsible for:

- Evaluating the suitability of activities for their participants
- Maintaining appropriate safety policies and procedures
- Providing qualified staff and supervision
- Using appropriate equipment
- Evaluating horses, facilities, and environmental conditions
- Complying with applicable laws, regulations, professional standards, and insurance requirements

Any in-person equine-assisted service may also require separate informed consent, assumption-of-risk, safety, or facility documentation.

Equine-Assisted Mental Health Therapy

Information on this website regarding equine-assisted mental health therapy is provided for general informational purposes.

A therapist-client relationship is not created by visiting the website, submitting a contact form, sending an email, scheduling an introductory consultation, or requesting information.

Acceptance into therapy may depend upon appropriate screening, clinical suitability, availability, location, professional licensure requirements, informed consent, and completion of required documentation.

No particular therapeutic outcome is guaranteed.

Clinical Supervision

Information regarding clinical supervision is provided for general informational purposes.

Clinicians are responsible for confirming that supervision meets the requirements of their applicable licensing board, employer, educational program, credentialing organization, or other governing authority.

JEC&C does not guarantee that any specific supervision hours, format, activity, or documentation will be accepted by a licensing or credentialing authority.

Consulting and Program Development

Consulting recommendations are based on the information available at the time services are provided.

Every organization, equine facility, professional team, client population, regulatory environment, and community is different.

JEC&C does not guarantee that a particular consulting recommendation, organizational change, program design, training strategy, marketing approach, curriculum, policy, or operational procedure will produce a particular result.

Organizations remain responsible for their own professional, operational, legal, financial, insurance, safety, and regulatory decisions.

Professional Zoom “Lunch & Learns”

Professional Zoom “Lunch & Learns” are intended for professional discussion, peer learning, brainstorming, and networking.

Comments, experiences, strategies, or opinions expressed by individual participants do not necessarily represent the views or recommendations of JEC&C or Jody Enget.

Lunch & Learns are not a substitute for individualized clinical supervision, therapy, legal advice, or professional consultation.

Participants are responsible for maintaining appropriate confidentiality and should not disclose identifying or protected client information during group discussions.

Continuing Education Documentation

Where indicated, participation or Continuing Education Unit documentation may be provided upon request.

Providing such documentation does not guarantee that a particular licensing board, credentialing organization, employer, professional association, or regulatory authority will accept the activity toward its continuing-education requirements.

Participants are responsible for confirming their own requirements before relying on any program for professional credit.

No Guarantee of Results

Individual, clinical, professional, organizational, and program outcomes vary.

JEC&C makes no guarantee regarding:

- Therapeutic outcomes
- Symptom improvement
- Program success
- Organizational growth
- Business or financial performance
- Participant outcomes
- Professional advancement
- Licensure or credentialing approval
- Continuing Education acceptance
- Effectiveness of a particular curriculum, worksheet, activity, training, or recommendation
- Suitability of any resource for every person, client, horse, facility, organization, or situation

Examples, descriptions, educational concepts, or potential benefits discussed on this website should not be interpreted as promises or guarantees of results.

User Responsibility

By using this website, participating in a program or training, or purchasing or using a resource, you acknowledge that you are responsible for determining whether the information, material, activity, or service is appropriate for your circumstances.

Professional users are responsible for exercising their own professional judgment and complying with applicable:

- Laws and regulations
- Licensing requirements
- Ethical standards
- Professional scopes of practice
- Facility and organizational policies
- Safety standards
- Confidentiality requirements
- Supervision requirements

Crisis and Emergency Situations

This website, its contact form, email address, store, and professional programs are not emergency or crisis services and should not be used for urgent communications.

If you or someone else is in immediate danger or experiencing a mental health emergency, contact appropriate emergency services.

In the United States, call or text 988 for the Suicide & Crisis Lifeline or call 911 in an immediate emergency.

Third-Party Information and Links

This website may reference or link to outside organizations, professional associations, authors, resources, research, websites, or service providers.

Such references are provided for informational or convenience purposes and do not necessarily constitute endorsement.

JEC&C does not control and is not responsible for the accuracy, availability, content, policies, products, or practices of third-party websites or organizations.

Accuracy and Changes

JEC&C makes reasonable efforts to provide accurate and useful information. However, laws, licensing requirements, professional standards, research, practices, prices, schedules, product information, and regulations may change.

Information may be updated, revised, or removed without notice.

Users are responsible for verifying information that may affect professional, legal, clinical, licensing, safety, or organizational decisions.

Limitation of Liability

To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, Jody Enget Counseling & Consulting, PLLC, Jody Enget, and their employees, contractors, authors, contributors, and licensors shall not be responsible for losses, injuries, claims, damages, or adverse consequences arising from the misuse, inappropriate application, unauthorized use, or inability to use general website information, educational products, curricula, presentations, worksheets, training materials, or other non-clinical resources.

Nothing in this Disclaimer is intended to exclude or limit liability that cannot lawfully be excluded or limited.

Separate professional agreements may govern therapy, clinical supervision, consulting, or other individualized professional services.

Intellectual Property and Product Use

Purchase of a product does not transfer copyright or ownership of the material.

Digital products and educational materials are subject to the website's Product License & Usage Terms and may not be resold, publicly distributed, reproduced commercially, or shared outside the permitted license.

Other Website Policies

This Disclaimer should be read together with our:

- Terms & Conditions
- Privacy Policy
- Digital Product Refund & Cancellation Policy
- Product License & Usage Terms
- Any product-specific terms, professional agreements, informed-consent documents, or notices applicable to a particular service

If a separate signed professional agreement governs a service, that agreement controls where it specifically differs from this general website Disclaimer.
